

A Gift From The Art House

Snowy Landscape

What you'll need

- 3 Sheets of A4 coloured paper (1 x dark blue, 1 x light blue, 1 x white)
- Gluestick
- Pencil
- White dots

Let's do it together

Search 'How to make winter landscape art with ripped paper collage. Incredibly simple. Highly effective.' on YouTube.

01. You will need 3 sheets of paper: 1 dark blue, 1 light blue and 1 white. The dark blue sheet will be the sky in the background. The light blue sheet will be a mountain in the distance. The white paper will be a snowy mountain closest to you.

02. Take your pencil and the light blue paper. Keep your elbow up in the air and draw a big, wonky mountain shape across the light blue paper. You should draw this line half way up the paper. The line should start on the right side and end on the left side of the paper. Do not worry when the line wobbles because mountains are not perfectly straight.

03. Use your fingers to tear along the line you have drawn. Take the bottom part of the light blue paper and glue this onto your dark blue paper, making sure the bottom of both sheets line up.

04. Repeat step 03 and 04 using the white paper. Make the mountain shape smaller by drawing it lower down on the paper.

05. Take the white dots provided and stick them down anywhere you like. This is the falling snow. Take a step back and look at your wonderful creation.

A message from the artist who created this activity, John Mayson.

“Hello! My name is John but lots of people call me ArtJohn. I am an artist, educator and YouTuber and I have my studio in The Art House. Being an artist is awesome. I get to wake up everyday and think to myself “What do I want to make today?” and I love being able to help others do the same.
