

This exhibition is called her performance is taking place at the beginning and end of the world.

It is by seven female artists. They are called Farrah, Hannah, Krystle, Maria, Mariette, Stela and Vanessa.

They met at university and were interested in language and magic and the body.

Together they read a book called Agua Viva. It is not a normal book. It is a mixture of fiction, poetry and diary entries.

The book highlights that language can be limiting. Sometimes we can not find a word to express how we feel.

The artists decided to explore how humans experience the world. But instead of using words, use other senses such as touch and body language.

They have made art to build a magical world filled with stories, creatures and exciting language.